Standard Written English REQUIREMENT: All written assignments should be presented using the conventions of Standard Written English. South Plains College requires all students to become proficient in "academic English," a form of English that is typically used in academic, professional, and business contexts. While slang, regional idioms, and informal kinds of self-expression are appropriate in some contexts, they are out of place in academic writing. Writing instructors and professors in courses across the campus expect all students to demonstrate proficiency in using the conventions of academic English in their written work, whether it is in-class exams or take-home essays. Each instructor may also add additional requirements regarding written assignments that are contained in your syllabus.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first-class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or “F” as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student’s responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student’s responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

Academic Appeals Procedure:

How this Course is conducted:

This course is conducted completely online. We do NOT meet face to face in a traditional classroom setting. It is your responsibility to have the necessary equipment (internet, computer, Word, etc.) for this participating in this course.

Logging into Blackboard:

To access your course, go to <https://southplainscollege.blackboard.com/> or go to the SPC Homepage and click on the "Login to" link in the top right-hand portion of the page and then click on the Blackboard link on the pull-down or you can type or copy the address into the address window of your computer. I recommend that you bookmark Blackboard on your computer for quick access. You can also log into MySPC and there is a Blackboard link there. Once you reach the site you will click "Log In". The log-in screen will come up asking for your user name and password. Simply follow the instructions on the screen.

OTHER INFORMATION concerning Blackboard:

Open Computer Lab: There is an Open Computer Lab located on the Levelland campus in the Technology Center. It is available to all students, with priority given to those students enrolled in computer classes. Computers are also available on the Reese Center, Lubbock, and Plainview campuses. Check with libraries and labs for hours.

Technical Problems/Support: If you are having computer problems, you have to let me know. I will try to help you in any way that I can. Please remember that it is your responsibility to have a backup plan if your computer goes down. Please have this plan in place now and do not wait until it is a crisis situation. If you lose your course work due to bad flash drives, Internet service down, computer crash, or your dog ate your homework, there is nothing I can do about it. THIS IS YOUR WARNING TO HAVE A BACKUP PLAN IN PLACE.

- IMPORTANT: Most tech issues are related to failure to update java, using the incorrect internet browser (try use Google Chrome or Firefox instead of Internet Explorer), and/or not deleting browsing history files daily. Most issues are related to computer issues, not Blackboard. Please note that this instructor does NOT recommend use of any handheld devices for taking this course. Cellphones are wonderful but not for course work done on the Internet.
- Reminder - bookmark the Blackboard login page on your computer.

SPC Technical Support Contact: Call (806) 716-2180 or email at Blackboard@southplainscollege.edu for student technical support. I am your course work support contact. Only call or e-mail technical support with questions about Blackboard or computer functioning. There is Technical Support information in the Start Here area of your Blackboard course. It contains links to Student Tutorials and the Student Orientation Course for Blackboard. Contact me for any course content information.

PLEASE DO NOT WAIT UNTIL THE LAST MINUTE TO TURN COURSE WORK IN OR YOU MAY HAVE PROBLEMS! Remember the saying "TECHNOLOGY HAPPENS"!

Anti-virus Software: Please make sure that your computer has an up-to-date antivirus software program installed.

Academic Integrity: It should be understood that students found guilty of cheating or plagiarism will earn a zero on the work in question for the first offense and will be dropped from the course with an 'F' should a second offense occur. Any amount of dishonesty is subject to these consequences, whether a lot or a little; this can include but is not limited to one copied sentence of a written assignment, a missing citation, an entire paper copied from someone/somewhere else, one plagiarized post on a discussion board, one copied exam item, looking at the scantron of another student during an exam or an exam or other coursework completed by someone other than yourself. You have also committed academic dishonesty when sharing course content/items/answers. This includes sharing course content with classmates or future students as well as sharing course content on websites such as Quizlet, Course Hero, or similar “study applications.” For further information and examples please see the Catalog, Student Guide, or refer to www.plagiarism.org

There is an APA Citation tutorial in the Applying the Sociological Imagination Essay section of your Blackboard course.

Computer Requirements: Browser plug ins and security software: most web educational experiences will require the use of several additional browser plug ins. It is highly recommended that you have an anti-virus program on your computer. You may also need Adobe Acrobat for several readings and a multimedia player such as Windows Media Player. Firefox is the recommended browser for Blackboard. Please download and use it. Since this course is entirely online, participants are expected to have a least an elementary knowledge of their microcomputer operating system and basic knowledge of software and tools such as word processor, e-mail, an Internet browser, and search engine.

Attendance Policy: The following is in addition to the Common Course Syllabus:

Since this course is a virtual classroom, attendance will be taken according to the following:

- Participating in class discussions by posting to the discussion board
- Submitting assignments on or before due dates.

Note: Simply logging into the course or logging into the course and sending an e-mail is NOT considered attendance for this course. You MUST participate in the course by submitting work during any given week to be considered “in attendance”.

“Participation” in this online class is mandatory – you must be active. There are numerous assignments which should force you to log-in continuously. I understand that each of you has your own schedule and will be logging-on at different times. That’s fine. All that is expected of you is that you GET THE WORK DONE!!

Each assignment and discussion have a dictated due DATE and TIME. It is your responsibility to get the work done and submitted to me by the designated time/date. Therefore, since this is a virtual classroom, attendance will be taken according to completion/submission of Discussions, Quizzes, Assignments, and projects.

If you are unable to log-in or complete your work for any reason, YOU MUST CONTACT ME ASAP!

Excuses such as “The network was down,” or “I could not figure out how to send the assignment through the assignments function” are not acceptable. In short, plan ahead and do not wait until the last minute to submit your assignments. It is always okay to turn in assignments early although discussion board postings should be done with the calendar schedule.

It is the student’s responsibility to drop the course on or before the last drop date of the semester to avoid failure. Administrative drops will not be made, unless student has discussed/made arrangements with me.

Technical help with Blackboard and Student Support Services: Links are provided on your Blackboard Home page under Start Here for Course Requirements.

Diversity: In this class, the instructor will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group difference and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world, and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

It is the policy of South Plains College to offer all educational and employment opportunities without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, gender, disability or age. In addition, this instructor will not tolerate remarks or gestures that can be construed to be sexist, racist, heterosexist or in any way disparaging to another person. Students who exhibit such behavior will be dropped from the class with a semester grade of "F" regardless of race, ethnicity, sex, religion, or sexual orientation.

Sensitive Nature of Humanities and Behavioral Science Courses

Given the dynamics of individual, relational, familial, societal, and cultural development and issues, behavioral studies courses address many sensitive issues; this course is no exception. Lifespan and relational issues occur in the context of sexual, racial/ethnic, political, religious/spiritual, economic/social class, and disability/challenge concerns. The discussion of such issues will increase the student's knowledge of developmental conditions in the modern world, but the information can be emotionally charged. It is also likely that the student will be exposed to diverse viewpoints; some viewpoints might differ from the student's personal views. If a student chooses to remain in class, then they will be expected to respect the diverse viewpoints represented in course material, as well as the viewpoints of their classmates. If the student is easily offended by discussion of such issues, then should consider whether to remain enrolled in the course.

Revelation of Personal Information

This course addresses topics that are personal in nature. Students are encouraged to participate in class discussion/presentations but are not required to share personal information with classmates. It is recommended that students use discretion in self-disclosure with classmates and the instructor. While it is expected that fellow classmates will be respectful and not disclose information that is shared in class, the instructor cannot guarantee confidentiality of information. Thus, students are responsible for the information that they share and should not share information they do not want others to know.

COURSE POLICY AND REQUIREMENTS

This is what you need to do to earn your grade:

Course Work:

Introduction Module: consists of a course agreement and introduction discussion with 2 replies.

Discussion Assignments: for discussions there will be several questions or prompts to the discussion board area. The first posting should be your own individual thoughts or comments relating the text material to the video (with appropriate page citations from the textbook). Then you should reply to two classmates to earn full credit for this activity. The primary goal for this portion of the course is to “talk” about what you are learning so it is more appropriate to informal and conversational in these assignments though I still encourage you to avoid “text” language. In the initial post your goal is to link examples from the video to the concepts presented in the textbook. These textbooks references should be cited using APA format. See “citing sources” link for examples. This is also the place to include personal experiences and/or reactions. For the two replies you should ask questions, provide feedback, and share personal experiences or reactions that encourage other students to think more deeply, constructively disagree at time, apply textbook/course information to other comments and feel compelled to share their own personal experiences/reactions. If you repeat yourself in reply messages you will only receive partial credit – your responses need to be authentic and meaningful to the conversation. Also, simply stating, “I agree” is not detailed or complex enough to earn points.

Discussion Guidelines/Requirements: Most discussions will require viewing a video and the link to the videos is located in the discussion topic instructions. You are required to write one original post and reply to two classmates in order to receive full credit. You will need to follow the guidelines below when constructing your original post and your two replies. If you fail to meet the minimum word count on your post or replies, a point deduction of half will be automatically made.

Original message requirements (worth up to 30 points):

- Due as indicated on the calendar by midnight
- 200-300 words in length
- Make direct connections between the video and the textbook information
- Include personal experiences and reactions

Reply message requirements (worth up to 20 points):

- Two replies due at midnight as indicated on the course calendar
- Minimum of 100 words each
- Ask questions to encourage students to think deeper
- Share personal experiences that relate to the discussion topics
- Constructively disagree at times
- Provide meaningful feedback – DO NOT simple state “I agree”

Quizzes: There will be individual chapter quizzes given each week to go along with your readings. They are open book. These quizzes will vary in format and you will be given 2 attempts on each quiz.

Reading Assignments: There are two separate reading assignments this semester. The material and assignment are provided under the “Assignments” area in Blackboard. This should be a polished essay using the conventions of Standard Written English and a minimum of 500 words. Any information from the text must be cited using APA format in order to avoid plagiarism.

Cultural Food Assignment: Specifics and details are in Blackboard.

Mid-Term Exam: Multiple choice and short answer.

Final Exam: Cumulative, multiple choice and short answer.

All written assignments should be presented using the conventions of Standard Written English – text message language or abbreviations DO NOT meet this standard.

Writing tips: All written work should be presented in APA format. Please utilize the website below for more information and examples. Word is highly recommended as it is useful in detecting spelling or grammatical errors. Always proofread your writing. Use the “enable html” button to spell check emails and discussions. Do NOT use Wikipedia as an academic source. A well-written paragraph is usually around 5 sentences (a topic sentence, 3 supporting sentences, and a closing sentence

https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research\_and\_citation/apa\_style/apa\_style\_introduction.html

Break down of points for the course:

15 Chapter Quizzes @ 20 each	= 300 points
2 Reading Assignments @ 75 each	= 150 points
4 Discussion Postings @ 50 each	= 200 points
Introduction Module	= 30 points
Cultural Food Assignment	= 120 points
Mid-Term Exam	= 100 points
Final Exam	= 100 points

All grades will be posted in Blackboard under the My Grades link.

Total Possible Points 1,000 points

Grading scale:

A = 1000-900
B = 899-800
C =799-700
D = 699-600;
F = 599 and below.

Grades are NOT rounded up, which means if you earn 899 points, you will receive an 89% or a B as your overall grade, no exceptions

Extra credit opportunities will be made available during the semester. I recommend that you take advantage of those opportunities as they become available as I will not make extra credit available on individual request.

Late work is accepted but not encouraged. Deadlines provide structure, and it is preferable that you stick to the course calendar. The deadline for all late work will be provided per instructor in Blackboard.
